THE GREAT HUXLEY.

What Huxley, the Great English Scientist, Considered the Best Start in Life.

The great English scientist, Huxley, said the best start in life is a sound stomach. Weak stomachs fail to digest food properly, because they lack the proper quantity of digestive acids (lactic and hydrochloric) and pepsinogen products; the most sensible remedy for cancer of the stomach is to take after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply in a pleasant, harmless form all the elements that weak stomachs lack.

The regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure every form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

They increase flesh, insure pure blood, strong nerves, a bright eye and clear complexion, because all these result only from wholesome food well digested.

Nearly all druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cents full sized package.

How to Gain Happiness.

To all those who suffer from either Functional or Organic diseases—whose lives have been made miserable from the ravages of disease, there is still hope. Not that elusive hope offered by so many and never fulfilled, but something tangible, something that is self-evident. Dr. Osman has made the objects of careful study the many diseases to which the human system is heir to. After years of painstaking and research he has arrived at definite conclusions that almost absolutely guarantee a cure. No matter how much a patient's system has been undermined, he builds up and cures alike. To any invalid who values life, health and happiness, we would advise them to consult with this eminent physician. A consultation costs nothing, and may be the means of bringing you health and happiness. Dr. Osman, formerly of New York, now of Columbus, Ohio, by special request of friends and patients, has decided to visit Canton, Ohio, Wednesday, June 10. In the private parlor of the Barnett Hotel from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. One day only. Consultation free and strictly confidential.

MUST UNITE.

NOT NECESSARY TO HAVE A LONG SQUABBLE.

The Mass Convention Will be a Home Cleaner and Not a School of Finance—Victory Over the Common Enemy Its Ultimate Object.

Congress Lake, O., May 30, 1896.

Mr. Editor—With your permission, I would like to add a few words in regard to the reorganization of the Democratic party in Stark county.

I have often wondered and have been greatly surprised that our party has been at all successful in the "st few years, when I consider the fact how the brethren in the rural districts have been wanted by a few chaplains, and not only that, but some city chaps have been quarreling for years, until the Young Men's Democratic Club, the pride of Stark county, has been entirely disbanded. Harmony is a big word when you consider its meaning, and I sincerely hope that harmony will exist, when the Democrats of Stark county assemble on the 6th of June. But a word or two in regard to the action of the county central committee of last year will not be out of place. We have no legal committee, for there was none elected. But I will refer to a little incident that occurred at the county convention one year ago. After the delegates that had been picked, and not elected, had assembled in Canton, the writer asked Mr. McGregor to put a resolution before the house to adjourn, and not name a ticket, and give the voters of the county a chance to vote for delegates, and a new committee. His answer was that the suggestion was tardy; that the convention was organized, and we could not do that. I then asked Mr. Welty to put the resolution, and his answer was "George, I believe that would be the proper way to do." But he didn't do it. He went right on with the side show. Now, Mr. Editor, I challenge the Democracy of the man who acts that way. I have a perfect right, as a Democrat, to challenge the Democracy of any set for naming a county ticket and selecting delegates to the state convention, when the Democrats of the rural districts had no opportunity to select their own delegates to the county convention and a committee to serve for one year. When the Democrats of Stark county meet next Saturday, let all things be done decently and in order. Let the majority rule, for that is Democratic. And if the silver band wagon is on the lead, let there be a silver delegation from Stark county, for as much as I know and hear, the silver men are in the lead. I will not, in this article, discuss the silver question, for I think that every Democrat understands it.

But I will say for those who favor a gold standard: Don't call us silver men cranks and crazy. I am still a Dem.

George Axe.

The writer of the foregoing is an old citizen of Stark county, and the News-Democrat is not displeased to again place his name in print, under what he has to say, for Mr. Axe once contributed to this publication some pertinent points. The reference Mr. Axe makes to the county central committee, that has no legal existence, is timely, but it should be clearly understood that criticism of the committee as a whole is not just. There are some excellent committeemen who have served the party well and deserve reappointment, but they were never notified when a meeting was to be held. A little set in Canton, with the assistance of just a few outside, presumed to operate the entire party and incidentally perpetuate themselves. The right of suffrage was denied to the people, and it is little wonder that there is now an uprising of indignant Democrats, who want to take the party's affairs out of the hands of these incompetents and party betrayers, and place only Democrats on guard. That is what the mass meeting at the Tabernacle is called for, and the reorganization of the party is its sole object. The finance question has nothing whatever to do with it. The set that still hangs on to their alleged positions on the central committee, are trying to make it appear that there is a scheme on foot to throttle silver. That report is absolutely false, and those who make it are not honest in it. The sentiment of the Democrats who have been assisting in this movement for purer politics, is that the party's first business is to whip the common enemy, and not call a convention for the purpose of inaugurating an internecine conflict on the money question or any other question concerning which there are honest differences of opinion. It is the sentiment, and the News-Democrat believes it to be the correct one, that the party should first undergo a thorough reorganization, in order to, in the future, wrest Moll's Stark from Republican rule, which is corrupt because clamorous. The Democrats must get together on the clan business. They must get together or they can never win. There will be delegates to the state convention elected at the mass convention, and it is believed wise to hamper them with no declarations on the financial question. When the national convention meets at Chicago, a platform will be adopted, and it will be the platform upon which we, as Democrats, must go to our fellow citizens and appeal to their judgment. There is no necessity for dividing the Democracy of Stark county on the financial question. The party is badly enough torn up as it is. A man with an honest opinion is not a dangerous character, and no one is delegated with power to dictate to him, whether his opinion lies in the direction of gold, or silver, or both. The thing to do is to turn out en masse next Saturday. Reorganize for victory and not for conflict among ourselves. Select good and true men, honest men, to go to the state convention, and do what they can to keep the grand old Democratic party together. It is not believed to be necessary, and it certainly would not be expedient, to resolve the mass convention of Stark county Democrats into a settler of national is-

ues. Let us clean house first, put Democrats in the breach, and go on to victory. The personnel of the call with signatures attached, containing names of men who are known to have opposite views on the financial question, is sufficient evidence that there is only one disposition in the minds of Democrats with reference to the mass convention—to harmonize, unite, purge of traitors and dictators and line up to reduce the county from the misrule into which it has fallen.

GENERAL DENIAL.

Made by Canton Steel Workers, Who Assert That They Are Not Interfering With New Men.

An answer and cross-petition to dismiss the injunction brought against them by the Canton Steel Company has been filed by Fred Moeck, Harry Maxheimer, John Lindeman, Charles Allerdig, John Stodcken, Harry Benet, John Gusk, Arthur Baker, Harry Jacques and Samuel Slomsky. They allege that allegations in the plaintiff's petition are untrue. They claim they have not conspired with each other or other persons to threaten employees with violence, nor did they, by threats, drive any of the employees away, and they are not in the habit of loitering about plaintiff's premises to meet employees or threaten them with violence to induce them to quit. They also allege that it was an agreement among themselves that they should not threaten or intimidate employees, and they have carefully observed this agreement. They further state that on May 19, 1896, and prior to their discharge, they became members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, a body of organized workmen, and this has been objectionable to said plaintiff, and it has refused to recognize the labor organization. They further allege that on May 12, 1896, they were discharged by said plaintiff, by reason of their belonging to such organization. For these and various other reasons they pray to be discharged from the injunction. U. S. Johnson is attorney for plaintiff.

IN THE COURTS.

Several Matters of Importance That Held the Attention of the Bench and Bar.

During the last January court, Springer Brothers, of Alliance, secured a judgment against John Y. Williams and George W. Henry, of Alliance, in the sum of $1,645.

On May 16, an execution was issued on the judgment against the debtors. This execution was yesterday returned by the sheriff, he having failed to find any property belonging to either of the parties, subjected to the execution. It was discovered
